

SAVE THE DATE

18-19 November 2022

INFORMATION LITERACY AND CIVIL SOCIETY

Teaching Concepts and Evaluation in
Times of Information
Disorder

I IDESA 2022

International
Student Workshop
15 - 18 November 2022

University of Sarajevo
Faculty of Political Sciences
Bosnia and Herzegovina

*Если вы говорите, что все
говорите то, что многие*

Deutscher Akademischer Austauschdienst
German Academic Exchange Service

AGENDA

DAY I / Friday, 18.11.2022.

IDESIA 2022 Conference

- 09:30 - 10:00 OPENING
Sead Turčalo, Dean (University of Sarajevo - Faculty of Political Sciences), Mario Hibert (University of Sarajevo), Thomas Mandl (University of Hildesheim)
- 10:00 - 11:00 KEYNOTE / Vladan Joler, Academy of Fine Arts, Novi Sad (Serbia)
New Extractivism
- 11:00 - 11:30 Critical success factors for Open Educational Resources – a students and teachers perspective
Stefan Dreisiebner, Lea Wöbbekind, University of Hildesheim
- 11:30- 12:00 Development of FPN UNSA Research Platform for MIL
Sanel Huskić, University of Sarajevo - Faculty of Political Sciences (B&H)
- BREAK 12:00- 14:00
- 14:00 - 14:30 Fallacies of civic society in MIL agenda: discomfort partnerships and multistakeholder mess
Bojana Kostić, "Pen to Paper" (Netherlands)
- 14:30 - 16:00 Information Literacy and Civil Society workshop: Results and reflections on students' group work and reports to the plenum
(Germany, Croatia, Serbia, Montenegro, B&H)

DAY II / Saturday, 19.11.2022.

IDESA 2022 Conference

- 10:00 - 11:00 Invited speaker / Responsibility for digital chaos: the role of the consumer and citizen online / Domen Savič, "Državljan D / Citizen D" (Slovenia)
- 11:00 - 11:30 Information literacy as a complex concept and as a simple heuristic / Joachim Griesbaum, University of Hildesheim (Germany)
- 11:30- 12:00 Mission: Build capacities for prosperous societies
Marko Stojanović / WB-Institute (Serbia)
- BREAK 12:00- 14:00
- 14:00 - 14:30 Digital inclusion - The importance of digital skills for social participation / Violeta Trkulja, Grenzenlos Digital e.V. (Berlin)
- 14:30 - 15:30 Podium Discussion / Representatives of Schools, Libraries and Scientists (Didactics, Information Science, Political Science)
Sanjica Faletar, Kornelija Balog, University of Osijek / Nataša Ružić, University of Podgorica / Feđa Kulenović, University of Sarajevo
- 15:30 - 16:00 Croatian Librarians Herald: promotion of edited journal number "The end of digital beginning" Vol. 65, No. 2 (2022)
Tatjana Aparac Jelušić, Editor-in-Chief,
Guest editor: Mario Hibert, University of Sarajevo
- 16:00 - 16:30 CLOSING REMARKS / Emir Vajzović, University of Sarajevo / Aleksandra Nikolić, Ministry of Science, Higher Education and Youth of Canton Sarajevo

About IDESA
2022

#IDESA2022

Information Literacy and Civil Society

Teaching Concepts and Evaluation in Times of Information Disorder

After two held IDESA conferences that addressed information literacy in the context of information professional for civic development and perspectives of MIL education, this year hybrid (online) conference IDESA will be held on 18th and 19 November 2022 in Sarajevo / University of Sarajevo – Faculty of Political Sciences.

IDESA 2022 conference – INFORMATION LITERACY AND CIVIL SOCIETY: Teaching Concepts and Evaluation in Times of Information Disorder will focus on different learning processes and teaching practices to present various strategies for navigating information pollution. While taking place during a series of international crises, the third IDESA conference offers interdisciplinary perspectives on the role of civil society in facilitating information literacy.

Students from Germany, Croatia, Montenegro, Serbia and B&H will participate in the four-day workshop and have an opportunity to present the results of their work during the IDESA 2022 Conference.

Working language: English

Topic of this year's IDESA conference aims to open its floors to attitudes in information literacy programs that go along with asymmetries over understanding is a technology a problem for democracy, or is democracy a problem for technology?

We would like to expose a discursive trends in media and information literacy teaching models from “think critically, click wisely” to “think politically, unclick carefully” asking what is the point of MIL if its normative narrative of progress and development does not confront techno-libertarian approach that “everything’s going to be ok” as long as solutions are pointing to the (another) app.

There is a huge need to attain focus on how academia and civil society envision MIL teaching concepts, how they refer to “MIL discontents” or to be more precise its paradoxes: “Is media and information literacy even possible in an age of largely invisible algorithms and increasingly invisible information systems? (Haider & Sundin, 2022). University of Hildesheim and University of Sarajevo therefore continue to discuss intersections of infodemic, education, and civic actions in a way that empowers critical practices.

PARTICIPANTS

MARIO HIBERT

University of Sarajevo

IDE SA 2022

DAY I / 09:30 - 10:00

DAY II / 15:30 - 16:00

Mario Hibert is Associate Professor at the Department of Comparative Literature and Librarianship, Faculty of Philosophy, University of Sarajevo. He holds a doctoral degree in information and communication sciences, Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences, University of Zagreb, Croatia; and has a Master's Degree in Human Rights and Democracy from the Center for Interdisciplinary Postgraduate Studies, University of Sarajevo and University of Bologna. He is actively involved in EU/UNESCO's project „Building Trust in Media in South East Europe and Turkey“ (2017- 2019) implemented by the Institute for Social Research at the University of Sarajevo, Faculty of Political Sciences. He is the Editor-in-Chief of the Open Information Science Journal (De Gruyter).

THOMAS MANDL

University of Hildesheim

IDESIA 2022

DAY I / 09:30 - 10:00

Thomas Mandl studied information and computer science at the University of Regensburg and at The University of Illinois at Champaign/Urbana. He worked as a research assistant at the Social Science Information Centre in Bonn, Germany and is currently Associate Professor at the University of Hildesheim in Germany where he is teaching in the programme International Information Management. He received a doctorate degree and a post doctoral degree from The University of Hildesheim. His research interests include information retrieval, human-computer interaction and internationalization of information technology.

VLADAN JOLER

Share Foundation

KEYNOTE

DAY I / 10:00 - 11:00

Vladan Joler was born in 1977 (Novi Sad) is SHARE Foundation co-founder and professor at the New Media department of the University of Novi Sad. He is leading SHARE Lab, a research and data investigation lab for exploring different technical and social aspects of algorithmic transparency, digital labour exploitation, invisible infrastructures, black boxes, and many other contemporary phenomena on the intersection between technology and society. Member of the society Narodna Tehnika (National Technique), retired game hacker, bureaucrat, DIY enthusiast, 8bit fanatic, electro pioneer, researcher, developer, scout, old & new media maker, atheist, activist, a lover of production processes and books with illustrations, internet ecologist, pirate by conviction, nationally undeclared, leftist with an affinity for high-quality cheeses, co-owner of a boat, traveler, "in VAT", tactful media and hacktivism lover, esthete, passionate proponent of open code, society and data and a designer when he has to be one. He is also a member of Kuda.org, and Eastwood - Real Time Strategy Group.

JOACHIM GRIESBAUM

University of Hildesheim

IDESIA 2022

DAY II / 11:00 - 11:30
Workshop instructor

Joachim Griesbaum teaches in the fields of information management, knowledge management, computer mediated communication, e-learning and online marketing. The main focus of his research is information behavior, e-learning, and online marketing. In the context of information literacy he is currently conducting projects on "Information literacy and democracy", "Intercultural perspectives on information literacy", and "Information literacy in rural areas".

LEA WÖBBEKIND

University of Hildesheim

IDESIA 2022

DAY I / 11:00 - 11:30

Lea Wöbbekind received her Master's Degree in "International Information Management-Information Science" from the University of Hildesheim (Germany) and Pai Chai University (Korea) in 2018. Since then, she has focused on human-computer interaction while working as a research associate on various projects at the Institute for Information Science and Natural Language Processing in Hildesheim, Germany. The development and validation of questionnaires for children's user experiences is the focus of her PhD.

STEFAN DREISIEBNER

University of Hildesheim

IDEA 2022

DAY I / 09:30 - 10:00
Workshop instructor

Stefan Dreisiebner is a post-doctoral researcher at the Department for Information Science and Natural Language Processing at the University of Hildesheim, Germany. He received his doctoral degree from the University of Graz, Austria. His research interests include technology-enhanced learning, information behaviour and information literacy. He was the coordinator of the Erasmus+ project Information Literacy Online - Developing Multilingual Open Educational Resources Reflecting Multicultural Aspects. At the University of Hildesheim, he teaches in the BA-programs in International Information Management and Global Information Management and the MA-programs in International Information Management – Information Science and Data Analytics.

SANEL HUSKIĆ

University of Sarajevo

IDESIA 2022

DAY I / 11:30 - 12:00
Workshop instructor

Sanel Huskić is Sarajevo based research analyst with more than 20 years of professional experience. He was involved with numerous international and intergovernmental organizations in this capacity (OSCE, USAID, UNDP, UNESCO, UNICEF, UNHCR, EU, EUSR, etc.) as well as government institutions and CSOs (including the leading Think Tank in Bosnia and Herzegovina at that time) in Western Balkans. He holds MA in Human Rights and Democracy from The University of Sarajevo and the University of Bologna. Currently, he is enrolled on PhD program in Global Studies with the Center for Interdisciplinary Studies of University of Sarajevo and as a senior research associate with the Institute for Social Research of the Faculty of Political Science of The University of Sarajevo. He is a consultant and activist with several organizations and on numerous initiatives.

BOJANA KOSTIĆ

“Pen to Paper” (Netherlands)

IDESIA 2022

DAY I / 14:00 - 14:30

Bojana Kostić was born in Belgrade. She lives and works in the Netherlands, where, after a master's degree in Information Law at the University of Amsterdam, she has been engaged in research and public representation in digital rights protection, intersectional justice, community capacity building and peer support for ten years. Through her work, she collaborated with international organizations (Council of Europe, Unesco, OSCE RFoM, ICFJ, Free Press Unlimited, Thomson Reuters, etc.) as well as with local initiatives and communities such as Astrea Lesbian foundation, Share Foundation, Media Diversity Institute. Before that, she dealt with humanitarian rights and trials for war crimes and the protection of the human rights of marginalized groups. She believes in the regulatory power of communities, solidarity and feminism.

FEDA KULENOVIĆ

University of Sarajevo

IDESIA 2022

DAY II / 14:30 - 15:30

Feđa Kulenović is an information and communication expert engaged in research and practice in data science, information science, knowledge management and communication, focusing on online communication and public presentation. He tries to transfer his knowledge to the students at the Department of Information Science at the Faculty of Philosophy of the University of Sarajevo. He collaborates as a consultant with many government bodies, non-governmental organizations and the business sector. He also collaborates on media and information literacy development projects within the University and with various Bosnian and regional organizations such as GONG and the Share Foundation.

DOMEN SAVIČ

“Državljan D / Citizen D”

IDE SA 2022

DAY II / 10:00 - 11:00

Domen Savič (1981) is the director of the NGO Državljan D (“Citizen D”). In his role as the director of a non-governmental organization he is focusing on developing long-term projects related to digital rights, communication privacy and digital security, media regulation, and active citizen participation in the political sphere. For the last three years, he has been engaged in an anti-hate speech campaign, during which he has exposed the ways public money is funding propaganda and hate speech outlets in Slovenia. His previous experience includes working for the national public broadcaster and private media companies, after which he moved into the field of digital marketing, and finally established a digital rights NGO. He has a journalism degree from the Faculty of Social Studies in Ljubljana, Slovenia.

MARKO STOJANOVIĆ

WB-Institute

IDESIA 2022

DAY II / 11:30 - 12:00

Marko Stojanović is a Head of Project Training Academy Unit at Western Balkans Institute and chairperson of WEBIN. He is double degree economist From the Graduate School of Geoeconomics Belgrade. Marko has sound experience in HE policy making as an external evaluator of the EUA Institutional Evaluation Program (EUA IEP 2012-2013) and as an elected committee member the European Students Union (2006-2008). He has been responsible for preparing more than 30 international projects funded by the EU through various programs, including TEMPUS, Erasmus+ CBHE, VET, Adults and Youth, IPA, CFS, etc. He has a record of consultancies delivered for the Romanian Agency on HE and Research (UFISCDI), International Organization for Migrations (IOM), European Training Foundation (ETF), Serbian Government, Serbian Fund for Science, numerous universities, foundations and organizations.

VIOLETA TRKULJA

Grenzenlos Digital e.V. (Berlin)

IDESIA 2022

DAY II / 14:00 - 14:30

Violeta Trkulja completed a doctorate in Information Science and worked as a researcher for the Department of Information Science at the Heinrich-Heine-Universität (2002-2008) and the Berlin School of Library and Information Science at Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin (2012-2019). Since 2019, she is chairwoman at Grenzenlos Digital e.V. a non-profit organization which promotes digital skills and digital inclusion. Currently, she is working on the project "DESIVE2 - Understanding Disinformation Behavior" funded by the Federal Ministry of Education and Research in Germany. Her research focuses on the digital divide as well as on information and digital literacy. Furthermore, she is working at You, We & Digital as an information specialist on topics such as open access and knowledge organization.

SANJICA FALETAR

University of Osijek

IDESIA 2022

DAY II / 14:30 - 15:30

Sanjica Faletar is a Professor at the Department of Information Sciences, Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences, University of Osijek, Croatia. Her research interests include library services to underserved and marginalized population and their information behaviour, LIS education and library architecture.

KORNELIJA PETR BALOG

University of Osijek

IDEA 2022

DAY II / 14:30 - 15:30

Kornelija Petr Balog is a Professor at the Department of Information Sciences, Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences, University of Osijek, Croatia. Her research interests include organisation of information, library services to underserved and marginalized population and their information behaviour, LIS education, information literacy and performance measurement.

NATAŠA RUŽIĆ

University of Montenegro

IDES A 2022

DAY II / 14:30 - 15:30

Nataša Ružić (born 1979 in Bar, Montenegro) graduated from the state University “Дружба народоv” at the study program Journalism in Moscow in 2004. She completed her undergraduate studies with honours and continued her education on postgraduate studies at the same University. Her master’s paper was awarded the University Council diploma for scientific research work. She defended her PhD dissertation, titled: “Internet as a factor stimulating violence in the society” in November 2010 at the Faculty of Political Science in Podgorica. In September 2011, she was awarded the title of assistant professor for the following subjects: Introduction to Journalism, History of Journalism, Media in Crisis Situations, Journalism Ethics, and in March 2017 the title of associate professor.

TATJANA APARAC JELUŠIĆ

IDESIA 2022

DAY II / 15:30 - 16:00

Tatjana Aparac-Jelušić (born in 1948) is currently retired and former Professor at the Department of Librarianship, Faculty of Education, University of Osijek and Professor at the Department of Information Sciences, Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences, University of Zagreb, and Professor at the Department of Information Sciences at the University of Zadar. In 2006 she won an award for teachers of information science—Thompson ISI's Outstanding Information Science Teacher of the Year—from the American Society for Information Science and Technology (ASIST). She has written more than 60 professional papers, reviews and notes, and has edited 16 books in the field of library and information science.

HANNAH MITERA

University of Hildesheim

IDESIA 2022

Workshop instructor

Hannah Mitera is a research assistant and PhD candidate at the Institute of Information Science at the University of Hildesheim. After graduating with a masters degree in "International Information Management - Information Science" she is now focusing on science communication research. There she is particularly interested in science communication in social media and its success and reception.

EMINA ADILOVIĆ

University of Sarajevo

IDESIA 2022

Workshop instructor

Emina Adilović (born 1995 in Zenica, BiH) has completed a master's in Comparative Literature and Librarianship. From 2015 to 2019 she works for several publishing houses and as a theatre producer. Since 2019 she has been working as an information expert and project assistant at the Institute for Social Science Research (FPN UNSA). Currently, she is enrolled on MA program in Information Security and as a senior research associate at the University of Sarajevo - Faculty of Political Sciences.

EMIR VAJZOVIĆ

University of Sarajevo

IDESIA 2022

DAY II / 16:00-16:30

Emir Vajzović is Associate Professor at Security and Peace Studies Department and Head of the Institute for Social Sciences Research of the Faculty of Political Sciences, University of Sarajevo. He graduated B.A. in Communications and B.A. in Criminal Justice, M.A. in Human Rights and Democracy (University of Bologna and University of Sarajevo) and PhD in Political Sciences from Faculty of Political Sciences Sarajevo. Vajzović has cumulatively over 20 project-years of experience as project manager and /or head researcher. In research and academic work, he applies an interdisciplinary approach in understanding the complexities of the digital transformation of society, education, media, politics, human rights, security, hybrid asymmetric cyber threats; and its implication to education, democracy and security.

Organisation Committee

Mario Hibert, University of Sarajevo (B&H)
Thomas Mandl, University of Hildesheim (Germany)
Emir Vajzović, University of Sarajevo (B&H)
Joachim Griesbaum, University of Hildesheim (Germany)
Sead Turčalo, University of Sarajevo (B&H)
Stefan Dresiebner, University of Hildesheim (Germany)
Emina Adilović, University of Sarajevo (B&H)
Sanel Huskić, University of Sarajevo (B&H)
Umihana Mahmić, University of Sarajevo (B&H)

Programme Committee

Mario Hibert, University of Sarajevo (B&H)
Emir Vajzović, University of Sarajevo (B&H)
Thomas Mandl, University of Hildesheim (Germany)
Joachim Griesbaum, University of Hildesheim (Germany)
Tatjana Aparac-Jelušić, University of Zadar and University of Osijek (Croatia)

DAAD

Deutscher Akademischer Austauschdienst
German Academic Exchange Service

